

Green as our hills

Arborina Relais embraces green philosophy by choosing a sustainable lifestyle. Our structure, in fact, is designed in harmony with the environment, from photovoltaics, which guarantees the use of renewable energy, to charging stations for electric vehicles. We also believe that the resources that nature offers us should not be wasted; for this reason, we adopted the Plastic Free policy and the Zero Waste ethics. Andy Warhol used to say "I think having land and not ruining it is the most beautiful art that anybody could ever want", and that's exactly what we want to offer our guests: a temple of design that doesn't give up modernity and elegance, while preserving respect and love for the ancient hills that surround us.

Zero Km Lifestyle

Arborina Relais is located in a natural area of extreme wealth and generosity that offers excellent ingredients. Why, then, seek them elsewhere? Langhe region offers products such as white truffles, grapes, "tonda gentile" hazelnuts, as well as typical meats and cheese. For this reason, our Chef Enrico Marmo embraces the zero km philosophy, personally takes care of the vegetable garden and collects the wild herbs that enrich his gourmet dishes. Our hills, in fact, are suitable for the practice of Foraging and, actually, early in the morning, it is not uncommon to see the Chef while picking up what the soil generously gives.
